Welcome

If 10K months feel far away, it may not mean you are doing everything wrong.

Sometimes the gap is not effort.
Sometimes it is alignment.

Your identity, energy, offer, audience, and income path all need to support the level of money you want to receive.

This checklist is a simple way to look at where you are now, what feels clear, and what may need more support before your next income expansion.

Use it as a check-in, not a test.
There is no perfect score.

There is only awareness, clarity, and your next aligned step.

THE CHECKLIST

Check What Feels True For You

- I know the income level I am calling in next.
- I can imagine myself receiving more money without shrinking, hiding, or overcomplicating it.
- I am becoming the kind of woman who can hold more visibility, responsibility, and opportunity.
- I have an income path that supports the money I want to create.
- I know what I am selling or feel open to selling something already created.
- I am willing to let digital products, workshops, or resell rights support my next income chapter.
- I am no longer waiting until everything is perfect to begin.
- I can see how my message, purpose, or experience could help someone else.
- I am ready to pair manifestation with structure, action, and a clear offer.
- I am open to creating income in a way that feels purposeful and aligned.

Notice what already feels true, and where you are ready for more alignment.
